Moa Mail Comments

Inglewood last week just one of its community's greatest supporters. Graham Meads loved the community. He was on the Community Board for over 25 years and one of our local Justices of the Peace. He was also on the Inglewood Development Trust and Life Member of Inglewood Rotary, Inglewood Club, Inglewood Cricket and also Inglewood Affiliated Football Club. He was instrumental in the building of the Kero Park Pavilion.

Graham also for many years the "go to" person if sound equipment was needed for any event such as weddings, dances, funerals - he gave freely of his time and equipment never seeking payment and in a lot of cases never receiving any. Graham also spent many hours visiting events in town and until a couple of years ago had filmed over 50 years of Inglewood Christmas Parades.

Graham was a gentleman - always polite and of good manners, never heard him swear and never ever heard him say a bad word about any person. Community minded people such as Graham are now a rarity. May Graham now be at peace with his beloved Jennie.

Designer Pet Urns Available at Energy Vets (Adrienne Harris)

Energy Vets in Inglewood and Waitara have just recently stocked some new Pet Urns. Kip Harris started designing them in conjunction with the help of his Grandad in Inglewood.

He now has his own workshop at home in Waitara and has developed a look and style that is aesthetically pleasing being constructed in native timber and finished with his personal gold Haka Urns.

The Urns for Pets come in four different sizes as do the Human ones. These can be found on Facebook under the name Haka Urns.

This is a Kips first foray in to the business world. We wish him well with his 'cottage industry' and hope his hobby is successful.

Busy Month For Marinoto (Lyn Sweet)

March has been a busy month for us. We have had Dog Therapy on March 4th when Adrienne has brought her dog Gidget out to visit the residents which they really enjoyed. The residents were able to pat her and give her treats. Some also got to shake her paw. Gidget will be definitely coming back. On March 7th we held a Walk-a-thon to raise money for Cancer Society Taranaki. This was well supported by staff and residents. A big thank you to our generous sponsors: Whistler Civil Engineering and Dign+Ltd. Their sponsorship enabled us to have a sausage sizzle and live entertainment. Thank you, Timless Therapy, for entertaining our residents, their families and staff while they were walking round our Senory Garden. We raised a whopping $1300.00 for the Cancer Society. A big thank you to the families that donated to this worthy cause. Thank you to Marinoto for allowing me to run this event. Kohatu Rest Home (Waitara) visited and played bowls on March 13th. They managed to keep the trophy. It is great that we can finally re-establish this monthly competition, after needing to pause this during the 2022/23 Covid impacts. On the 14th a lunch outing was enjoyed by all that came and included Ms Rotomua followed by fish and chips at Ngamotu Beach. A drive through the countryside, from the mountain base to the sea was a highlight later in the month. Entertainment continues to go down a treat and the residents enjoy it. A special visit by Mr Whippy on March 27th went down a treat with the residents that had them. All want him to come back.

Gardening Clues With Sue (Sue Marsh)

Autumn is always a busy time in the garden, whether you are harvesting crops, sowing to garden beds, even preparing new lawns, there are many jobs to do. In the vegetable garden, sow green crops of lupin and mustard in any empty spaces for digging into the soil for green manure. Remove all finished vegetable plants from the garden, put them in the compost bin rather than digging in to the soil. You can prepare for winter crops by adding compost and sheep pellets to the top layer of soil. There is lots you can prepare, sow seeds like broccolo, broccolo, broad beans, cabbage, carrots, onion, radish, spinach, silverbeet. Transplant to the garden as the weather warms and when they are showing at least two sets of true leaves. Broad beans can be planted directly in to the soil, stagger the sowing for a continuous harvest. Get a last crop of peas in before winter, in warmer areas you can also get away with snow peas. Of course you can plant seedlings like broccolo, brussels sprouts, cabbage, cauliflower, celery, leeks, lettuce, silverbeet and spinach to keep your family fed. Dust your cauliflowers, broccolo and brussels sprouts with Dennis Dust to protect them from white butterfly and diamond back moth, and now we have had some rain, make sure to protect seedlings from slugs and snails, by scattering beer around each plant.

Plant some spring bulbs, why not try Friesias, a beautiful fragrant choice that flowers early to mid Spring is Friesia Atica, a delightful white fressia that will grow up to 35cm. What about striking Dutch Iris Miss Spring, lovely flowers in a warm, dusty combination of purple, lavender and yellow. These flower forms mid to late Spring, are much later than will give interest in your garden beds. If you don't have much room, there is always Daffodi Tees Boule, which is a miniature double tree flowering yellow daffodi, which is ideal for growing in pots. Always use a bulb fertiliser to give them a really good start, and you'll be looking forward to having colour back in your garden come Spring. Lots to do so happy gardening this week!

Durham Garden Circle Autumn Update (Janet Francesco)

It's a busy time in the garden in Autumn, getting things ready and put to bed for the Winter. But, for some, it also involves thinking about the Spring and what seeds might be planted.

Have you ever wondered where the seeds you buy are processed? Did you know that Egmort Seeds, just out of New Plymouth, is the New Zealand hub for seed processing and distribution for the majority of seed brands. That was the surprising fact members of the Durham Garden Circle members learned when we visited the impressive operation in February. The sheer scale of the business was awe-inspiring at first glance, with rows and rows of high shelving, filled with named containers, all full of seed packets, ready for distribution. John McCulloch, the owner and manager was also our tour guide.

We learned that seeds come from all around the world, meeting the stringent requirements of the Ministry of Primary Industries for import. All parts of the operation were explained and shown as well as plans for future developments and the free give away of a seed catalogue each was enthusiastically welcomed. March saw the Circle visiting the garden of Karen Gwender on Upper Lepperton Road. The stroll around her garden was relaxing and Karen gave us a history of the new house and garden, as well as the old garden where the old house had been. Afternoon tea at the President's home was a welcome time to catch up with others in the Circle.

Welcome to our new members! And if you are new to the area and are interested in joining, we would love to see you. Phone Pat Phillips on 0272802866. We have a lunch on the second Thursday of the month and a garden visit on the fourth. If you have a garden that you would like to share with the Circle we would love to hear from you (we don't mind weeds).

Strength and Tone Without Burpees (Phillipps King)

How many of us avoid exercise because we just hate burpees, bear crawls and skipping? Does the thought of the gym just not ring your bell? It is too good to be true - to find a workout that avoids all those things AND is fun, challenging and makes you feel great!

Welcome to Pilates! A complete workout for body and mind. Not only do your muscles get challenged, but you are introduced to a new mind-body connection in a beautiful way. The breath connection is vital to "hydrating" your muscles with oxygen.

While Pilates is a low-impact exercise style it is certainly not without its fair share of burn factor. In fact you could go so far as to say that your gym workouts could improve significantly with a regular session of Pilates.

If you're keen to come and give it a go... let me introduce you to our Heat and Flow class with Aqua on a Monday morning at 9:00am. It's the perfect opportunity to drop the kids at school and come and get straight into strength and conditioning for yourself. Amazing for your mental health, building friendships, as well as having fun. We are passionate about building bodies that are resilient and are functional for whatever life throws at you.

Come and join us. We'll see you soon. Register for classes here: <https://pilatesforliving.tame/>

28 players entered the tournament which featured both doubles and singles. Inglewood Squash Club tournament organiser Pauline Stachurski says the Games tournament slotted well into the club's busy calendar.

Everyone who played enjoyed themselves and were keen to see squash continue in the Games again next year. The doubles competition was especially popular, she said.

"Afterwards people didn't want to go home, and we were out on the deck and the sun was shining down as we enjoyed the social side. It was a friendly atmosphere," she said. "People were making some really great connections".

Justina Harrison, who played doubles with long-time partner Chelsea Aim, said she was keen to be involved in the Masters. "Masters tournaments are always far more social," she says. "Just sometimes it's good to take the young guys out of it." Jacinta, who is the president of New Plymouth's Kawarua squash club, said playing doubles was perfect for many, who were keen to play without having to run themselves into the ground. The tournament was also a great place to bring some more entertaining, low percentage shots out of the bag as well, she said.

Squash was "really starting to find its place in the mainstream" with stars like Joelle King and Paul Coll helping to lift the sport's profile. In Taranaki, smaller clubs like Inglewood and Waitara were doing some great things, she said while Kawarua continued to be the largest Taranaki club. Recent court upgrades there meant the club was now eligible to host Professional Squash Association events.

The sport's inclusion in the 2028 Olympics would also help to build interest but approachable tournaments like the Masters were also part of the mix and she was keen to see it happen again next year.

"It's awesome to have squash involved as it can sometimes miss out," she said.

Relay For Life at TET Stadium (Lisa Russell)

The day started out with heavy downpours but in true Taranaki Style we carried on. We started with our opening ceremony. This included raising our Hands of Hope flag and Carers footprint banner. The first lap was lead by the pipe band and our Survivors and Carers while everyone else cheered for them. After that lap everyone joined in and our awesome bands started playing. Our day was jam packed full of wonderful entertainment. This is including bands, zumba, Relay, relay, line dancing, battle of the schools and more. This kept those off the track occupied while the people on track enjoyed the sounds. Once the evening started to draw in we had our Candle Light Remembrance ceremony. Once again this was very moving and certainly pulled everyone together at a lap of silence. We had a point of people that have been lost to Cancer on the big screen while we did a lap of silence. Our preliminary total on the night was $136,000. We have had much more funds come in since then. Totals should be complete in the next few weeks. Thank you to the Inglewood community for the wonderful hospitality and support once again.
